Sweeping Investigation of Campus Book Store Profits on Texts Is Demanded by Student Council at Wednesday Assembly

POWER REQUEST TO BE GRANTED TO COUNCILMEN

Desired Authority Will Be Incorporated in Amended Constitution

PROPOSED ACTION IS PERMITTED BY McVEY

Plans for Investigation Are Expected to Be Completed at Next Meeting

Declaring that the University of Kentucky campus book store is reaping inordinate profits from the sale of textbooks and school commodities, and demanding a sweeping investigation of conditions thought to be unfair to the student body at the store, the Men's Student Council at the University Wednesday was granted permission by President Frank L. McVey to conduct a thorough auditing of the book store practices in the near future.

Although no official action has been taken by the councilmen, they are expected to prepare and complete plans for direct investigation at the next regular meeting of the council Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Administration building. President McVey, according to the members of the council, upon being asked to assist the body in its work on the book store situation, granted permission to the council for an official investigation of conditions at the store.

The councilmen yesterday refused to issue information relative to the causes leading up to the investigation demands, but are expected to make public an outlined course of action following an official meeting on Wednesday of next week.

Power Request Granted
The power request made by the council at a meeting held on Wednesday, March 26, for a definition and confirmation of the powers vested in the body through its constitution, was granted.

CAMPUS KERNELS

YOU CAN'T BLAME THE MEN!

Now that nominations for "Queen of the Prom" must be turned in at The Kernel office by Monday, April 7, we predict that the interior of the office will be the cynosure of admiring eyes on or about that date.

A GOOD FELLOW

Robert O'Dear, senior in the College of Law, has been appointed to the Sterling Fellowship in law at the Yale Law School for the year 1930-31. This is the best fellowship offered at the Yale Law School.

TOO BAD, GIRLS!

Just when the local female charms began to achieve their former popularity following the high school tournament, the men folk of the campus heard about High School Week, which will get under way Wednesday. The result was as devastating as high school girls are ravishing.

A PLEASANT TASK

Miss Isabel Wolfe Hemenway, of Tucson, Ariz., grand president of Alpha Delta Theta social sorority, will be in Lexington from April 9 to 14 inspecting the Alpha chapter at Transylvania and the Beta chapter at the University. Miss Hemenway was formerly an instructor in the English department at Transylvania. Several entertainments have been planned for her by the two chapters.

FALSE ALARM

The management of The Kernel wish to announce that the brazen banner at the top of this page was not the result of any sorority or fraternity fire at night or at any other time. It amounts to no more than a test to determine the number of color blind students at the University or the number of fatalities from imbibing too much "jake."

Jane Dyer was announced winner of the cup awarded annually by the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority to the outstanding freshman girl and Nancy Scragham was awarded the $100 prize given by the Women's Self Government Association each year to the outstanding junior girl last night at the fifth annual women's banquet sponsored by the Women's Administrative Council at the Phoenix hotel. Imogene Smith, president of the council, which is composed of the president of all the women's organizations on the campus, presided as toastmistress.

The officers of the Women's Self Government Association for the year 1930-31 were announced by Bernice Byland, this year's president. Katherine Kennedy was named president for next year; Katherine Katterjohn, vice president; Mae Bryant, secretary, and Jane Dyer, treasurer. Elizabeth Cramer, president of the Young Women's Christian Association, announced the names of the 1930-31 officers of the association, who are Eleanor Swearingen, president; Virginia Ellis, vice president; Elizabeth Ann Ewing, secretary; Mary Allison Threlkeld, treasurer; and Eleanor Smith, chairman of the finance committee.

Chi Delta Phi, women's honorary literary fraternity, pledged the following girls: Amy Dietrich, Ruth Bullock, Violet Behler and Katherine Carr.

Phi Upsilon Omicron, women's honorary home economics fraternity, pledged Dorothy Parsons, Eudene Hamby, Mary Hood Gillespie, Laura Moores and Virginia Fisher.

The subject of the toast was "The Evolution of the Co-Ed." Class toasts were given by Jane Dyer, "The Befuddled Freshman"; Mary Sidney Hobson, "The Know-It-All Sophomore"; Eleanor Swearingen, "The Sensible Junior," and Kathleen Fitch, "The Wise Senior."

The Alpha Gamma Delta cup is awarded on a basis of scholarship, activities and character. Miss Dyer, who received the award this year, is a home economics major in the College of Agriculture and attained a standing of 2.7 last semester. She is a pledge of the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority.

President and Mrs. Frank L. McVey and Dean Sarah G. Blanding were special guests at the banquet.

Owens to Represent Scabbard and Blade

Inspector James Chapman Will Also Attend Biannual Military Convention

Scabbard and Blade, national honorary military fraternity, will hold its biannual convention at Minneapolis, Minn., April 24, 25 and 26, it was learned Wednesday.

The delegate selected from the Kentucky chapter—D company, 4th Regiment—is Hayes Owens. James Chapman, assistant corps area inspector for the 5th Corps Area, is also going to make the trip.

Amendments to the constitution will be discussed and officers for the next two years will probably be elected. About 57 chapters are sending delegates.

ELIGIBILITY LIST IS RELEASED TO MORTAR BOARD

Names of Forty-Six Junior Girls Will Be Submitted to Women Students

FRATERNITY PLANS TO SELECT 15 CO-EDS

Box for Checked Ballots Will Be Provided at University Postoffice

Mortar Board list of eligibles, including 46 junior girls, has been completed and will be placed in the postoffice box of each university woman within the next week. With this action a new pledging plan is being inaugurated by the fraternity.

It is the desire of Mortar Board that the names of 15 girls on the list be checked, who, because of their scholarship and leadership, deserve the highest honor that can be bestowed upon a junior woman.

A box in which the checked lists can be dropped will be placed in the postoffice for the convenience of the students. This method of selecting pledges for Mortar Board will not be final, but will be used as a guide in the election of new members.

Junior girls who compose the list of eligibles who have a standing of 2 or over, are:

Misses Edith Allison, Louise Bickel, Mae Bryant, Dorothy Carr, Lillian Combs, Pauline Creech, Gladys Garnett, Marjorie Gould, Mary Virginia Halley, Fern Harris, Frances Holliday, Mary Cole Holloway, Lenora Howe, Mary Eleanor Isgrig and Gladys Kirkland.

Misses Mary Louise McDowell, Buena Mathis, Rita Mount, Gladys Marr Neale, Virginia Nevins, Gertrude O'Connell, Lucille Preston, Edith Rupard, Mildred Shute, Helen C. Smith, Mary B. Tate, Maude Torian, Elizabeth Ann Wheeler, Louise Wheeler and Marie White.

Misses Imogene Young, Fannie Woodhead, Elizabeth Bell Collins, Etta B. Coons, Mrs. Mary Craycraft, Margaret Daugherty, Mrs. Mabel Gard, Mildred Guthrie, Katherine Murrell, Jean Sanford, Eula Shaw, Mrs. E. S. Snedaker, Margaret Stucker, Katherine Phelps and Nancy Scragham.

Plans Complete for May Day Activities

Prizes to Be Awarded for Beautiful, Individual, Comical Floats

SyKy, in co-operation with the Men's Student Council and Omicron Delta Kappa, has completed all plans for this year's May Day exercises. A very interesting and varied program has been arranged by the members of the various committees. All fraternities and sororities are expected to have a float in the parade, which will be routed through the main thoroughfares of the city.

Prizes for the most comical, the most beautiful and the best individual float have been selected by the awards committee and are on display at the Tavern. After the parade the floats will return to the campus where the awards will be presented. The coronation of the Queen of the May will take place on the University commons. Formerly the coronation of the queen has been held in the gym, but it is believed that the open air ceremonies will be much more delightful and beautiful.

In the evening SyKy will entertain with a dance in the gym. At this time the pledging exercises of SyKy will be held. Members of this organization are selected on their ability to sell candy and soft drinks at the University athletic meets.

Fair Co-Eds Lend National Feeling Of Patriotism to Review of Cadets

Monday afternoon the R. O. T. C. unit of the University, marching to the martial airs of its beloved band, passed in patriotic review before the proper officers, and a goodly crowd of spectators, who had assembled themselves for the purpose of witnessing once more the strength of the University fighting group. Such a display of national feeling has not been observed in this locality for a long time. By and large, with a few exceptions of one platoon, which must have been constituted of an unconscionable group of radicals, who apparently prefer to live for their country than to die for it, the review was quite a delectable affair, and highly successful in every respect.

In order to heighten the charm of the occasion the Alpha Gama lent to the R. O. T. C. a sufficient quantity of their fair, or unfair, co-eds,

SIX ARE PLEDGED BY TAU BETA PI

Exercises Are Held at Engineers' Assembly After Dean Anderson and Irmen Fort Address Students

Kentucky Alpha of Tau Beta Pi, national honorary engineering fraternity, held its spring pledging exercises at the engineers' convocation in Memorial hall, Wednesday, April 2. The following men were pledged: Henry Johnson, Bowling Green; Bryce Brown, Clay; Warren L. Moore, Danville; John W. Buskie, Lexington; Louis Payton, Lynch, and Earl Michel, Buffalo, N. Y.

R. I. Fort, president of the Kentucky chapter, made a short introductory talk concerning the history and requirements for membership. Tau Beta Pi was founded at Lehigh University in 1885, and has 58 chapters. Kentucky Alpha was installed at the University in 1902. Requirements for membership are scholarship, character and leadership. Only male members of the junior and senior classes of the Engineering College are eligible.

Dean F. Paul Anderson spoke briefly on the meaning and aims of Tau Beta Pi and on the "Romance of Engineering" as especially applied to the $75,000,000 bridge over the Columbia river from Ranier, Ore., to Longview, Wash.

Officers and members of the active chapter are as follows: R. I. Fort, president; J. C. Benson, vice president; C. F. Bailey, corresponding secretary; M. W. Davis, recording secretary; J. W. Pennel, treasurer; W. B. Pythian, cataloger; Orville Richmond, Louis Walton, E. L. Cawby, C. E. Colvin, Warner Ford, W. F. Steers, S. M. Worthington, B. J. Harrison and R. K. Thornberry.

who condescended to march around the field, respondent in their feminine glory, and evidently quite happy. Of course there were other sororities who would not be outdone, and their adherents, too, were there.

The amount of patriotism, however, was tinged by a feeling of partisanship as the members of the respective sororities exulted at their good fortune of having one of their members on the field of battle. Several young co-eds (an old one was never heard of), were sitting on the top of some Pie Cap's car. If their remarks could have been heard by members of another Hellenic organization of the feminine variety, there would undoubtedly have been bloodshed.

About ten or twelve years ago the world was made safe for democracy at the sacrifice of too many millions of lives, but it is felt that

Sigma Delta Chi Cancels Arrangements for Annual Gridiron Banquet at U. K.

The first annual gridiron banquet to have been staged by the Kentucky Chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, international professional journalism fraternity at the University, and which was to have been held at the Lafayette hotel on April 11, will have to be canceled on account of conflicting affairs at the University and other engagements that will make it impossible for many to attend it, it was learned Thursday from officials of the fraternity.

The chapter wishes to thank those who have shown their interest in an all-University affair of this caliber by sending in their reservations and by the kind letters from those who could not attend through previous engagements. Checks will be returned to the senders at once.

As the gridiron banquet was also to be given in connection with Founders Day of the fraternity, the chapter will hold a banquet of this affair that evening and all members and alumni are invited to attend. Send your reservations to Secretary Clarence Barnes at once.

After making elaborate plans for the entertainment at the gridiron banquet which included a well-known magician of Louisville and outside speakers of renown, the committee of the Kentucky Chapter, Sigma Delta Chi, have been forced to cancel the banquet on account of numerous conflicting University and other affairs that have made it impossible for many who desired to attend to be present on April 11.

The chapter wishes to thank those who have shown their interest in an all-University affair of this caliber by sending in their reservations and by the kind letters from those who could not attend through previous engagements. Checks will be returned to the senders at once.

Rhoads Will Lead Baseball Team Against Ohio Today

EDUCATION UNIT WORK NEARS END

Building Will Be Completed and Ready for Occupancy August 1, Dean Taylor Has Announced

The new Education Training building, which is now under construction, will be completed and ready for occupancy August 1, according to Dean W. S. Taylor of the College of Education. This building, which is located near the intersection of South Upper and Limestone streets, facing the Administration building, will house the various departments of the training school, from the kindergarten to the high school grades.

The University's regular system of education from the kindergarten to doctor of philosophy is almost unique in the entire country. The plan of teaching has been carefully worked out in order to give the pupils nothing but expert instruction. The education faculty will be enlarged to take care of the elementary and graded classes and the instruction which is given by practice teachers will be under the observation and supervision of experienced demonstration teachers.

The new two-story building, with its two wings, one for the grade students and the other for those of the high school, and its inner courts for ventilation and lighting purposes, will be one of the most beautifully finished structures on the campus. Its centrally located chapel is equipped with motion picture facilities. The libraries, complete gymnasium, exhibition hall, classrooms and halls are all strikingly well lighted and finished. The cafeteria, divided for the use of children and older students, will be operated as a branch of the University Commons.

Not only will this new educational unit offer better opportunities for the pupils of Lexington and the surrounding counties, but its modern teacher training facilities will soon create a demand for University-trained teachers.

Prom Queen Election To Be Held Thursday

Junior Class Sets Monday as Final Date for Nominations of Candidates

Nominations for the Queen of the Junior Prom, one of the highest honors that a co-ed at the University of Kentucky can gain, must be turned in to Margaret Cundiff on or before Monday, April 7.

Attached to these petitions for nomination there must be the signatures of 30 members of the junior class and from the nominations the Prom Queen will be elected on April 10.

Only a girl from the junior class is eligible for the candidacy and only members of the junior class will be allowed to participate in the election.

The arrangements for the Prom, one of the few school dances that last until 1 o'clock, have been placed in the hands of Jack McGurk, chairman of the dance committee, and this committee will have the complete responsibility for the event, which, according to the members of the committee, will be one of the best proms in the history of the institution.

Arrangements for the election of the Prom Queen on Thursday, April 10, have been placed in the hands of the junior class officers, who will act as election officers on that day. Ballot boxes will be placed in front of the Administration building and the winner of the election will be announced on Friday, April 11.

Two-Game Series Follows Victory of Big Blue Over Miami University

RETURN CONTESTS TO BE HELD APRIL 14, 15

McBrayer, Barnes and Augustus Will Participate in Catching, Pitching

By Brandon Price

Sending the "Big Red" boys from Miami University back to Oxford with the short end of a 3 to 2 baseball score, the "Big Blue" of the University of Kentucky will endeavor to make it one, two, three from the Buckeye state representatives of the national pastime when they engage the Ohio State baseball team in the first of a two-game series here today on Stoll field. It will start at 2:30 this afternoon and Coach Johnny Heber, the Blue Devil mentor, will be master of ceremonies at his usual position, just "south" of "Big Boy" Barnes.

The game this afternoon will mark the first of two two-games series to be played with the Big Ten representatives from Columbus. The Wildcats will return the visit of the "O. H. Ten Boys" by playing them two games in their stadium at Columbus, the largest in the Big Ten conference, on April 14 and 15.

Little is known of the strength of the Ohio team, but they are usually in the first division of the Big Ten conference and will probably be one of the strongest teams the Cats will face this season.

Paul MacBrayer, who had a bit of tough luck in his opening start, is anxious to prove to the fans the stuff and will probably get the call at the mound position, while Augustus will receive his offerings. Mac seems to be bothered with the old jinx when it comes to losing close ones, but is going to give Mr. Jinx a merry chase this afternoon, and with the proper support from his team mates can be counted upon to come through with the Wildcats' second victory of the season.

Captain Raymond Rhoads, who has been attracting the attention of the Big League scouts, will take the mound in the Saturday afternoon game. Barnes will be on the receiving end whenever Rhoads takes the mound. Coach Devereaux has been alternating catchers whenever he has changed pitchers. This worked well in the game with Miami. The Wildcats are blessed with two catchers with about evenly matched ability. Augustus did not get to take a swing at the ball in the opener Monday because Barnes went in to receive the fast balls of Rhoads.

The infield will be composed of the boys who played in the Miami game. Kruger will be at first. Toth at second, Mauser at third and Uri baniak will be at shortstop. The outfield will be chosen from Orr, Kelly, Murphy, Kellogg and Trott.

Kentuckian of 1930 To Be Released Soon Says Couch, Editor

The 1930 edition of the Kentuckian, year book of the University, will soon be on sale, as the publication is off the press and will be shipped to Lexington soon.

Subscriptions for the annual can be made at the business office of the Kentuckian; and, according to Virgil L. Couch, editor, to insure getting one they should be made right away.

Mr. Couch will go to Nashville, Tenn., Wednesday, to inspect the edition. On Friday and Saturday he will attend a biennial province convocation of the Alpha Tau Omega social fraternity at the University of the South, Sewanee, Tenn.

STROLLER PLAY TO HAVE THREE PRESENTATIONS

Evans Telegraphs Director Riley That He Will Be Unable to Attend Premiere

CLUB MEMBERS WILL AID IN PRODUCTION

James Dorman Will Continue Seat Sale Through First of Next Week

"Scarlet," spring production of Strollers, will have its formal opening Monday night at 8:30 at the Guignol theater, and will continue for two other performances on Tuesday and Wednesday nights. The seat sale, which is being held at Russ Putnam's Clothes Shop in the Tavern building, will continue through the first of the week. Reservations may be made by calling Clay 679, and the tickets will be held there until 7:30 the night of the performance.

Rehearsals have been held each night this week and it is reported by Stroller officials that all arrangements have been completed in preparation for the opening.

"Scarlet" was written by Bruce Balfour Evans, one of the most outstanding of the younger school of playwrights. In a telegram received yesterday by Thomas L. Riley, Stroller director, Mr. Evans regretted that he would be unable to attend the premiere of "Scarlet," but that he wished "for the Strollers a successful run of my production."

"Scarlet" is a melodramatic mystery-farce in three acts. The play concerns a mysterious personage who, for some unknown reason, plots and executes the murder of several people. Cyrus Marsh, a wealthy New York broker, is killed. In spite of the efforts of two efficient detectives, the mystery grows more intriguing as other murders follow. A network of exciting adventures lead to ultimate discovery of the identity of "Scarlet," and brings the play to an astonishing denouement.

Among the unusual features of "Scarlet" is the revelation that a murder has a comical effect upon the audience. Climaxing such mysterious manifestation of the uncanny

I SHALL NOT CARE

When I am dead and over me bright
April
Shakes out her rain-drenched hair,
Though you shall lean above me
broken-hearted,
I shall not care.

I shall have peace, as leafy boughs
are peaceful
When rains bend down the bough;
And I shall be more silent and cold-
hearted,
Than you are now.

Sigma Nu Formal

The members of the Sigma Nu fraternity entertained Saturday night with their spring formal dance at the Men's Gymnasium from 9 until 12 o'clock. Cliff Perlines and his Brunswick recording orchestra of Chicago furnished the music for the five no-breaks.

The gymnasium was beautifully decorated in futuristic designs and varied colored crepe paper streamers divided the room into several sections. At each corner of the room a large illuminated shield of the fraternity hung. The programs for the guests were black celluloid, incrustated with mother of pearl, which was engraved with the Sigma Nu crest.

The active chapter includes Messrs. Hubert Buckles, Neil Cain, Nathan Davies, Frank Davidson, Sammy Drake, Elden Durand, Gordon Gonsalves, James Jeffries, Henry Kelley, Edward Miller, Robert Morrison, John Noonan, Robert Pennington, Waltham Medley, John Ramey, Earl K. Senff, Herbert Steeley, Jack Todd, George Whitfield, Lister Witherspoon, Rudy Schmook, Marshall Van Meter, William McKee, James W. Gordon, Peyton Ellis, Slade Carr, Edward Cadden, Harold Bredwell, E. D. Farmer.

Fledges are Messrs. James Sullivan, Russell Steigler, Zach Shields, Junior Peters, Robert Newton, William Moore, Edward Monahan, Robert Virgil Hall.

Chaperones for the dance were President and Mrs. Frank L. McVey, Dean Sarah Blanding, Mr. and Mrs. Maury Crutcher, Mr. and Mrs.

William Finn, Mr. and Mrs. Madison Cawein, Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Van Arsdale, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Tracy, Dr. and Mrs. O. J. Stewart, Miss Marguerite McLaughlin.

Chapter bids were sent to the fraternities at the University of Kentucky, Georgetown College, Transylvania College, University of Louisville and the University of Tennessee.

About 500 guests were present.

Kappa Sig Fire Adds Color to Dinner Program

Kern Patterson

Fired by ambition to be the publicity gain for the public, the Kappa Sig fire, the little "warming parties" held recently by their feminine cohorts, the Alpha Gam's and the K. D.'s, the Kappa Sig's decided to give their dinner guests of last Sunday a warm reception in their own inimitable style; and so, just as the guests were beginning to be warmed by the festive board of Kappa Sigma, it broke loose—fire in one of the tallest turrets of the Kappa Sig castle.

It was said that those present were very agreeably surprised. Although the affair was not graced by the presence of the crimson and warm-colored pajamas of the Alpha Gam social fires, it is said that there were a few squeals of delight from the "fairer" sex—and it was reported that Miss Margie McLaughlin was not at all "fazed" by the shocking announcement that the palace was on fire. It is said that she calmly resumed her repast and thought nothing more of it—a wisecracking good chaperone is Miss Margie.

A hook and ladder platoon from the Lexington fire battalion put in their appearance in a few moments and began to show their knightly skill before the young maids who had assembled in front of the mansion for the performance.

Not to be outdone in matters of chivalry, the redoubtable Jess Laughlin came dashing out and proceeded to vanquish the veteran firemen in scaling the castle wall, probably in search of lovely maidens in distress, and whatnot.

But the blaze was found to be only a feeble one, and the knights were destined not to try their metal that day. That old fire and water horse, "Deacon" Jones, followed by a few of the more hardy of the Alpha Sig courtiers, arrived on the scene a few moments later and pronounced the event more or less a failure.

It was just another "house fire" and nothing more; but Dame Rumor has it that more of these enjoyable social events are promised for the pleasure-mad in the near future—more than likely Dean Squelcher will catch the spirit of the season and hold a little "fire-water" party for the Student Council. Quen Sabe? For it is the custom in these days.

Model Assembly of Language to Be Given

April 10 will witness the inauguration of a model assembly of the League of Nations to be sponsored by the Political Science Forum of the University. The meeting will be held at 8 o'clock in Memorial Hall. Centre College, Asbury College and Kentucky Wesleyan will co-operate with the university department of Political Science at this meeting by sending student representatives. Other representatives will be chosen from students of Political Science at the University.

Attractive programs have been designed for this session by Miss Harriet Kerslake. Dr. A. W. Kelley will aid in the program by playing the national anthems of the various nations in the League of Nations.

The meeting was designed primarily for the International Relations Club and the Political Science Forum of the University. The object is to show the people how affairs of the League of Nations are conducted. The public is invited to attend this meeting.

Dr. Miner Releases New Translation of French Psychology

Dr. J. B. Miner of the psychology department, has recently translated "Principles of Experimental Psychology" by Henri Pion, professor at the Institute of Psychology of the University of Paris. The book was published in this country by Harcourt, Brace and Company, and is one of the books of "The International Library of Psychology, Philosophy and Scientific Methods."

"Principles of Experimental Psychology" is a general exposition of mental functioning, such as may be disentangled from the results hitherto obtained, with an appeal to examples of definite accomplishments. The foreword thus sets the purpose of the book before the reader.

Dr. Miner, who is head of the psychology department of the University, began work on the translation while in France on his leave of absence. He has made several research problems and published the results in technical journals. In 1919 he published a book called "Deficiency in Delinquency: an Interpretation of Mental Testing." The present book, "Principles of Experimental Psychology," has been published in England.

Boynton and Graham Write Articles for Technical Journals

A recent number of the new Journal of Higher Education carried a review of Dr. Paul L. Boynton's study of "The Relationship Between the Intelligence and Moral Judgment of College Students." At the same time there appeared in the new Quarterly Journal of Social Psychology an extended research made by Dr. James L. Graham. Both Dr. Boynton and Dr. Graham are professors in the department of psychology.

Dr. Boynton's research was carried on here at the university. It was first published in the "Contributions to Education" at George Peabody College for Teachers. It is a study between moral judgments and tested intelligence, showing that the student's maturity does not seem to affect his moral judgment, but that college men are apparently more lenient in their judgments, on the average, than college women.

Dr. Graham's research is a study of the racial differences in response of such highly selected groups of negroes and whites as are found in colleges. This work took several years. He has not only measured the general superiority of the white in tests of higher intellectual processes, but has discovered certain types of relational thinking in which his group of negroes made a relatively higher record compared with the whites.

GRIDER TO DISCUSS PANAMA

El Ateneo Castellano, Spanish Club of the University, will hold its regular meeting in the recreation room of Patterson hall, at 3 p. m., Tuesday, April 8. "Panama" will be the general theme for discussion, with a number of students taking part on the program. James Allen Grider, Jr., who lived in Panama for eight years prior to his enrollment in the University, will present an interesting feature on the working of the Panama Canal.

ALPHA GAM INSPECTOR HERE

Miss Julia Riser, official visiting delegate of the Alpha Gamma Delta sorority, inspected the University chapter from March 30 to April 2. Miss Riser is from Birmingham, Ala., and is a member of the Grand Council of Alpha Gamma Delta.

Yawn—the only time some married men get to open their mouths.

SQUIRREL FOOD

William Ardrey

The student council seems to be more interested in publicity than in gaining dominion over all phases of student government. Their demands were not known to President McVey until he read of them in the Kernel, Friday morning.

We were warned before the Sigma Nu formal that a large, green snake was to guard the entrance to the gym. The power of suggestion was well demonstrated to us today when several of our friends maintained that they had actually seen the snake, that its name was Roland and that it had pink eyes. Perhaps it was some more potent influence than the power of suggestion.

Even without the snake we enjoyed the dance immensely. If there were only some way to convince our friends from Centre that these occasions are just as brilliant when they leave their guns at home.

The high regard which the Alpha Gamma Rho's entertain for their neighbors, the Kappas, was delicately expressed in the method by which the farmers issued invitations to the fair ladies for their formal. It seems that a chapter bid was sent and that any of the girls who desired to attend were permitted to select their own dates. When the list had been completed it was presented to the Alpha Gamma Rho's who then sent bids to all the men who were necessary to the happiness of the Kappas. Just another way of overcoming Sigma Chi competition.

We so enjoy watching the little boys parade in front of the Administration building on Monday afternoons. They are very proud of their beautiful brown uniforms and they take themselves so seriously—they don't even crane their necks when the band sponsor passes by.

If only our manly eds and fair ettes could know how much more common than usual they look when they munch chewing gum they would doubtless forever ostracize this proletarian practice. A satyrical "entertainer" guzzling gin in a Chicago night club is a thing of beauty compared to a Tri-Delt chewing gum in the Tavern.

Not content with giving the firemen an eyeful of pyjama clad femininity or the carpenters who afterward fixed the roof two eyefulls of negligee covered charm, one of the Alpha Gam activists went a step farther last week. As she and the Ivory were having fun together in the tub a crash announced a visitor. It seems that one of the electricians who was working in the attic above had fallen through the plaster into the citadel of Alpha Gam cleanliness. Might we point out to the chapter that there are more delicate methods of securing a lover?

Early to bed and early to rise and your girl goes out with other guys.

COUNCIL ACTION

As the editorial page of The Kernel is being closed for the press, comes news of the investigation demands concerning the campus book store and the granting of the power request made by the Men's Student Council on March 28. We regret that there is no time for an editorial discussion of the action taken by the council, but we feel that it is well that this is the case, for such comment should be undertaken only after a thorough study of the situation. Next week, if nothing intervenes, The Kernel will present the latest developments and a fair discussion of all factors involved.

AN UNFORTUNATE EVENT

The scheduled first annual gridiron banquet has been called off, according to an announcement issued yesterday by Jess Laughlin, president of Sigma Delta Chi, honorary journalism fraternity which sponsored the attempt this year to give to the University and Kentucky an entertainment feature comparable to those given by other chapters at prominent universities throughout the nation.

It is regretted that little interest was shown in the gridiron banquet and that the modicum of interest displayed was smothered when other organizations scheduled events in direct conflict with the Sigma Delta Chi banquet date. The gridiron banquet was announced far in advance of the date so that other organizations planning entertainments would have ample time to arrange dates not in conflict with those of the journalism fraternity.

SHROPSHIRE APPOINTED

With the March issue of the Kentucky Alumnus began a new regime in the office of the secretary of the alumni association of the University of Kentucky. Upon the acceptance of the resignation of Raymond Kirk as alumni secretary and editor of the official association magazine, James Shropshire, of Lexington, a graduate of the University with the class of 1929, was appointed to complete the unexpired term of Mr. Kirk.

The Kernel regrets the passing of Mr. Kirk, as he capably performed the duties incumbent upon his office in a scholarly and gentlemanly manner, but it is felt that his successor will carry on the work already begun with pleasing results to the University and state.

Mr. Shropshire has had wide experience in the affairs of publications at the University, having served as business manager of the Kernel and letters and manager of student publications. He will retain the latter office. The Kernel extends congratulations to the alumni association for having secured an editor and secretary who is capable of continuing the excellent work of the past.

AUGUST 1

Education from the kindergarten to the highest academic degree, that of doctor of philosophy, will be available at the University when the new education training building now under construction is completed, Dean W. S. Taylor, of the College of Education, has announced. The new building will be completed and ready for use by August 1.

At that date the University will be one of the few institutions in the entire country and the only one within an area of several hundred miles to offer such complete educational training, enabling a child to enter the University at the kindergarten age and continue its education through graded school, high school, college and post-graduate study to master's and doctor's degrees.

The new building is to contain all of the most modern equipment for the education of children and youths of all ages and for the educational training of students in the University College of Education. The faculty will be enlarged to take care of the elementary and graded classes being added and students of the college will be given practical training in the teaching of students of all ages. Practice teaching will be under the observance of experienced demonstration teachers and supervisors, at all times assuring the children the best instruction and the student-teacher practical experience.

With the opening next fall of the complete educational building, the College of Education is expected to attract undergraduate students from a wide area. Operation of the improved educational training school is expected to result in the raising of standards of neighboring states.

The erection and opening of the new building can not but add to the University's already rapidly growing prestige throughout the nation, according to educators familiar with conditions, and other educational facilities provided by other universities.

Opening of the new building will bring increased educational opportunities to the entire state, but more especially to Lexington. Through the operation of the elementary, graded and high schools under the supervision of experts, Lexington children will be enabled to acquire the finest possible education at minimum cost, just as Lexington college students enjoy financial advantage because of the location of the University in this city.

It has been noted before that the University is growing rapidly under the capable direction of the regime now in control, but The Kernel believes that no more lasting and beneficial achievement will have been consummated by the school than when August 1 presents a master school of education to the Commonwealth of Kentucky.

THE LEAGUE OF NATIONS

With the announcement that the Political Science Forum in co-operation with the International Relations Club will present a model session of the League of Nations, the student body and faculty of the University again are reminded forcibly of the highly constructive work of these two organizations and of the Political Science Department. Probably less is known of the intricate workings of the League of Nations than of any other body of international scope. Probably no other body has played such an important part in the affairs of the nations of Europe or has figured so prominently in the political life of our own country. Time it is, then, that more should be known of this assemblage. The groups sponsoring this model session are deserving of the highest commendation for their ambitious attempt.

THE HIDDEN CITY

By SIR PHILIP GIBBS

"Sacrifice," says Sir Philip Gibbs, "is not a long-dead virtue of the Victorian Era, but a flourishing and vital force which gives synthesis and meaning to an otherwise incomprehensible age." This optimistic statement he has embodied in a novel entitled "The Hidden City." This novel, by the way, is quite a departure from his recent "thrillers" and war tales, which have created a unique place for themselves in many circles. Into the maze and motion of London life he has placed a young doctor, through whose eyes we observe various individuals of all the types and classes which constitute London's population. We come to see the soul of the great city and the soul of a man as Sir Philip sees it. In "The hidden city" of man he finds the foundation for love and the larger social instincts. "The Hidden City" has been characterized as a novel, but it seems rather a collection of short stories loosely woven together and unified by the figure of the doctor and one or two other comical characters. On the other hand, the book is noteworthy in its manifestations of Sir Philip's obvious efforts to recapture and renew man's idealism, and in his success he can perhaps be forgiven for certain errors in technique.

COLLEGIATE DIVERSIONS

During the recent struggles of mother nature to clothe herself in all the loveliness of springtime, one cannot but be impressed with the character and variety of the diversions of the collegians. Even the most disinterested observer is readily assured that the collegians have an endless variety of ways to prevent boredom.

People are quite generally prone to consider collegians as an artificial class entirely distinct from all others. Perhaps some of the basic elements of this distinction was not without reason. Who, for instance, but a collegian would want to ride an "honery" mule on main street of a downtown street at the unholy hour of twelve but a collegian? Bicycles were common enough in our day but we never had a hankering to ride one around in the lobby of a hotel full of people. We had trouble enough in avoiding collisions out in the wide open spaces.

A further consideration of collegiate diversions would tend to show that the chief difference between the past-times of the collegians and others is that students in college usually tire of their common means of spending time as soon as they discover the reasons back of a particular way of spending time. As long as the yo-yo was a curiosity, and unique to say the least, it was a pleasant diversion. When we found out what made the yo-yo "yo" the thing had lost its interest. The same observation well applies to many other endeavors.

As a class collegians choose far more healthful and interesting diversions than an equal number of people in other fields. They ride, swim, play tennis and seek their exercise in long strolls about the city, although not always by themselves. They play bridge and rummy and other card games with more than ordinary proficiency. They seek diversion in enlightening conversation, albeit it may be sometimes misunderstood by being classed as "bull sessions." And then, in the spring time, there is always the possibility of a bit of harmless courting to break the monotony before and after dances.

A MATTER OF CULTURE

Soon the University of Kentucky concert band will give the first of a series of concerts, carefully planned and executed so as to appeal to lovers of good music at the University.

The concerts will be presented by what many consider to be the best concert band in the history of the school. They will be made up of many types of music, the result being that all who attend will hear compositions attuned to their particular musical taste.

Among other things now being presented to the students at the University, these concerts should take their place as cultural subsidiaries to the ordinary routine of class work. It long has been a matter of regret to officials of the University that there are so few students here who apparently care little or nothing for cultural activities, and it has been well-established that no man or woman is thoroughly educated who lacks interest in the things that lend culture. Perhaps students do not realize this, but there is no time like the present for an awakening.

Although there may be better bands than the University concert organization, the fact remains that there is no better in Lexington. It behooves students, then, to attend the concerts soon to be given, for the attendants will hear programs that which there are none better in Lexington.

SONGS OF U. K.

"Songs of U. K." is the title of a booklet which has been published recently by the University Publicity Bureau. The publication of this booklet fills a need that long has existed, its appearance marking the first time that the complete words and music to "On, On, U. of K." and "U. K. Alma Mater" have been published. Aside from being a valuable and timely publication, the booklet serves as another illustration of the good work that is being done by the University Publicity Bureau under the capable direction of Elmer G. Sulzer and his assistant, Miss Helen King.

The bureau has been established approximately one year, but during that time it has done more than any one other single agency to disseminate the news of the University of Kentucky to the state and the nation at large. The Kernel feels that the continuation of this highly commendable work is assured.

The Ohio State Lantern has gone in for gossip in a "big way!" It remarks that a girl is like a football team—if she has a good line she can hold them. What about the forward pass?

Politics is given streamer headlines in the Michigan State News, but at Kentucky it is too common to arouse more than a passing interest.

College athletics are on the up and up these days. On March 7, McGill University chess club lost to the Ithaca club by a score of 6 to 2.

Colleagues Honor Dr. Jos. W. Pryor

Members of the anatomy and physiology and hygiene departments of the University sponsored a birthday reception in honor of Dr. Joseph W. Pryor at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the home of President and Mrs. Frank L. McVey. Dr. Pryor, who has served the University in the anatomy and physiology departments for 30 years, is retiring from active teaching this year. The entertainment marked his seventy-fourth birthday.

5000-kilowatt turbine-generator installed in 1905 at the Fish Street station of the Commonwealth Edison Company, Chicago

When Small Machines Were Big

MORE than a quarter century ago, the Commonwealth Edison Company, prophetically alive to the immense possibilities of the future, ordered from General Electric a 5000-kilowatt steam turbine—in those days a giant of electric power.

To-day, a General Electric turbine-generator of 208,000-kilowatt capacity sends out its vast energy to the Chicago Metropolitan District.

College-trained men played a responsible part in the engineering and manufacture of both machines—just as they serve in important capacities in the engineering, production, and distribution of all General Electric equipment, large or small.

CAMPUS KERNELS

PEPPIE'S DIARY

FRIDAY—Up betimes and to class where I did list to the dissenting opinion of JOHN CROSBY for some time. Albert peculiar, BILL GESS did agree with the professor. Finally, to stroll about the campus where I did see EDNA SMITH and RALPH STEVENS. In the afternoon to talk with JANE GATE who did promise to reform after our comments of last week. Saw also MARGARET DOUGLAS looking mighty neat in clothes with her old dress new furnished. Still later I did talk with MARY ARMSTRONG who did promise to set me right on the current scandal.

SATURDAY—The campus is indeed abuzz this morning with "BEANS" McWELKINS rushing about with several fair ladies. Saw also "CHEESE" McCHESNEY, who now seems out of circulation. Finally, away to loaf for a while where I did see BUD FARMER, but I was not able to tell whether he was courting SUNNYE ALLEN, JANET ROBBINS or PEACHES McMAKIN. Saw today many of the old-timers and ex-students back in town. In the evening to the Sigma Nu formal where I did see many of the celebrities and near-celebrities. Was most struck by the many comments on the appearance of JEWELL MARTIN. Saw there EVELYN FORD, looking mighty pretty but wanting to know what was meant by a la negligee. Finally, away to bed with my heart at rest but my mind very busy.

SUNDAY—This day I did stay long in bed after the strenuous night before and finally I did arise to a late breakfast. Saw BETTY BOARD, MINA PATE and JANET ROBBINS with their usual Sunday morning appetites. In the afternoon to laugh long and loud at BILL GESS and BOB O'DEAR trying to convince the world that they were studying. Saw also DAN GRIFFITH and HUBERT BUCKLES recuperating after their review for the bar. In the evening to the show where I did see KITTY FINNELL and her boy friend making merry.

MONDAY—Up early this morning to revel in the fresh sunlight before class. In the afternoon I was amazed to see JIM CHAPMAN in the library. Saw NANCY JOHN-

SON and RUDY SCHMOCK about the campus. Finally, to the baseball game where I did see many of the eds being collegiate with their baseball chewing gum. Saw SHORTY SHROPSHIRE keeping score and TIM MURPHY to roll the baseball through his feet in center field. Saw also L. W. McMURRAY to hold down my old position on the bench. In the evening to see LEN WEAKLEY and PRESTON ORDWAY wending their weary way homeward after giving the ladies a treat.

TUESDAY—This day I rushed to school being thirsty for knowledge—and gossip, and almost ran into LOUIS WEBER, who has given up his VALENTINO title and become the settled student. FRANK DAVIDSON and KAY KENNEDY were too busy to even nod a welcome to me. I beheld the stately JAMES R. DORMAN trying to persuade his true love, MAC DONALD, to avoid the weariness to class room. At lunch, the den of iniquity did swarm with collegiates: CHRISTINE JOHNSON and McBRAYER were with other half of the "BIG FOUR" with MARY ARMSTRONG AND DICK RICHARDS—Ah—a wonderful thing—love! At night I slipped through the drenched darkness of the silent campus and peeked in the windows of the building where I watches the STROLLERS in silent gleam! I saw there JAMES GATES and EARL SELLERS in a heated argument and watched TOM RILEY pace the floor and tear his hair in frenzied agony. Methinks there are mysterious doings in this "SCARLET" play.

WEDNESDAY—Ah, shades of Hades—what a dull day! Would that Spring would come when the thought of men turn to that which the fair maids have dwelt on all winter! I saw SHIPWRECK KELLY with LUCY DAVIS and they did look sorely troubled. This is rumor of a quarrel. Alas! It always happens! But then I saw ROD KEENEY and the lovely LOIS ADAMS and once more I had faith in "this thing called love." The den of iniquity was interesting as usual. Methinks I've seen COACH HEBER engaged in deep conversation with MARY LEWIS MARVIN of late. I saw CLARENCE BARNES talking to the Alpha Gams. Rumor has it that he has been accused of my diary! Alas, my nerves! What fools my public be! I really have them guessing. Just before tea hour the RHYTHM KINGS became most unruly. BILL SHELL and his date O. K. JUDSON were given the royal razz and much to my disgust a screen was fished from the closet of the den, to build them a cozy corner! A fight did start then, and I hurried away to a more peaceful vicinity where I did see EVELYN FORD and JACK MCGURK. The night was spent in meetings of the Greeks. Ah, more's the pity to the stray Greeks! KEN MCINVIYRE looked like the man without a country in his corner of the den.

THURSDAY—This day being very rainy I stirred not out until late. Then to class where I did see DARY SCHMIDT and BOB SCHIPE as they talked on the corner. CHARLES RAEDICKER did try to oogle his eyes at the girls, but the charm was not working this day. Saw also VERNON ROOKS as he hustled about to get in the information of the behemoths as they engaged in their vulgar pastimes. Saw also MORTON WALKER as he did engage in a last minute rush to furnish copy. Saw also ROY OWSLEY as he strolled to the law building, where he might drop his "profes-

'CATS AND TIGERS TO MEET IN DUAL RELAY SATURDAY

Meet to Be Held as Workout for Georgia Tech Relays Next Week

CATS HANDICAPPED BY LOSS OF McLANE

Sophomores Fill Gaps Left Vacant by Last Year's Track Men

By Lawrence Crump
Kentucky's first dual relay meet of the season will take place tomorrow afternoon at Georgetown, with the Georgetown Tigers furnishing competition. Coach Shively will take his entire squad on the trip and will use as many men as possible in an attempt to select the best men to enter the Georgia Tech relays next week.

Cold weather has been a severe handicap to the development of the squad and it is not probable that very good time will be made. Kentucky will be somewhat handicapped by the loss of Freddie McLane, who was high scorer of the Wildcat squad last year. A pulled tendon will prevent his appearing against Georgetown.

Heber and Kelley will probably start in the 100-yard dash and Kelley will pair with Sisk in the 220-yard dash. Adams of Georgetown will run both of these events, in which there are no favorites. Jones and Rutenegger will run the quarter mile grind and will also have competition in the person of Waters of the Tiger squad. Thomason and O'Bryan will take care of the half-mile, with Thomason having the edge. O'Bryan will also run the mile together with Twaddell. Captain Owens and Benny Martin or Johnson will run the two-mile event, with Owens as the best bet. Shively is expecting Owens to tie or break the Southern Conference record in this event before the season ends.

The high and low hurdles bring Cavana, Shipley, Welman and Williams into action, with Waters as Georgetown's threat. "Babe" Wright and "Floppy" Forquer will toss the shot and both men should get some nice distance. Wright has gotten 42 feet and 4 inches on his best throw and "Floppy" has been able to separate himself 40 feet from the little iron ball. Wright will also throw the discus paired with Andrews. Cavana and Rodgers will throw the javelin and there is very little choice between the spear tossers. In the jumps, Kelly and George Yates will broad jump; Roberts and Gibson, high jump, and Gibson and Porter in the pole vault. Roberts is getting good height in the high jump, clearing 6 feet.

Starters in the mile relay are not certain, but will be picked from the following: Owens, Thomason, Jones, Thorne, Rutenegger and Hayes.

Kentucky has the most powerful and well balanced track and field squad in the history of the institution and a break in the weather will find the boys turning in some excellent performances throughout the season. A successful season will do much to add to the growing interest in track events and provide a better balanced athletic program for the University.

Dr. Black Resumes Duties at University

Dr. Forrest R. Black of the College of Law, has returned to the University and has taken up his duties as professor after an absence of about two weeks. While visiting his mother at Tiffin, Ohio, Dr. Black suffered injuries to his left leg and left hand in an automobile accident near Tiffin, as he was returning home from his visit. The injuries proved so serious that he was forced to return to his mother's and remain a week longer.

Dr. Black also suffered a severe nervous shock, but has recovered from this and the injuries as well. He hopes to be able to make up the classes which he missed as occasion may offer. His class in Torts was met once by Prof. Randall and twice by Prof. Moreland, and his class in Constitutional Law was met by Prof. Chalkley for one week.

Durham Prep Team Holds Practice In Women's Gym.

The Durham, N. C., basketball team, champions of their state, were guests of the Phi Sigma Kappa fraternity here Saturday night enroute to the national tournament at Chicago. The squad of eight men worked out in the girls' gym here Saturday night and left early Sunday morning for the "Windy City."

The Durham team is coached by Dwight Stuessy, former star quarterback and twice all conference forward in basketball while a student at the University of Illinois. He was a member of the Phi Sigma Kappa social fraternity at that institution. Coach Stuessy has made an enviable record at Durham, where he is coaching his first year.

KITTEN THINLIES ACCOMPANY CATS

"No fooling," it seems that spring is here at last, and with perfect weather the University freshmen track team has been rapidly rounding into shape for their coming meet with Georgetown, to be held at the latter's field Saturday afternoon.

The Kittens this year will have a hard row to hoe in upholding the record made by last year's freshman team, which won meets over Centre and Georgetown, besides winning eight first places from the varsity.

Try-outs were held last Saturday and the boys were successful in showing plenty of stuff despite the cold wind which whipped Stoll field all afternoon. It was thought at the opening of the season that there would be several weak places on the team, but these places seem to have been strengthened by older men who have begun to hit their stride, and by the appearance of new faces among the track aspirants.

Coach Peter Potter has been fortunate in having only one major casualty: Tuttle, the big boy from Berea Academy, having twisted his ankle severely. Tuttle was a main cog in the high jump and discus throw. It is expected that the ankle will heal in time to allow him to enter Saturday's meet.

In the sprints Coach Potter is counting on Foster, Spillman and Gray. Foster and Mahan look best in the 220-yard event, and Watts, Ballou, Millikan and Farmer's performances have been outstanding in the quarter and half mile runs. In all probability Maddox and Gottlieb will run the mile. In the 220-yard low hurdles Clark and Brown will perform, while Traylor and Clark will give their attention to the high hurdles. Aldridge and Seal are expected to take care of the weight events. Luther and Tuttle will throw the discus. Tracy will be the choice for the javelin throw. The broad jumping will be taken care of by Gray, and the high jumping by Tuttle, Traylor and Turley. Hubble and Turley are expected to enter the pole vault.

With such material as the men mentioned there seems to be a great chance for the Kitten team to duplicate the performances made by last year's squad. Coach Potter has arranged for several meets this year, among which will be telegraphic meets with Mississippi A. and M., Tennessee and Georgia. There will also be at least two more meets scheduled to be held on Stoll field.

A DELICATE MATTER

The country judge saw fit to question the witness. "Where did you first feel a sensation of pain?" "On my epidermis, sir," replied the witness.

The judge looked puzzled. Then glancing at the spectators in the courtroom, he said:

"The ladies will please leave the courtroom."

Invalid: Why are you staring at me so hard, little boy?

Little Boy: I'm waitin' to see you gallop.

Invalid: Gallop!

Little Boy: Yes. Mom said you had gallopin' consumption.

"How many times, Johnny, do I have to tell you that one must keep his eyes closed during prayer?"

"Well, mamma, how do you know I don't?"

WILDCATS ANNEX OPENING CONTEST

Captain Rhoads and McBrayer Lead Teammates to 3 to 2 Victory Over Miami University Baseball Club

In one of the most brilliant opening games ever played on Stoll field the Wildcats defeated the strong Miami University baseball team here Monday by the score of 3 to 2.

McBrayer and Augustus opened the season for Kentucky as batterymen, but Mac's usual linx still pursued him, and after he had been touched for two runs, gave way to Captain Rhoads and his battery mate, Barnes. Rhoads and Barnes went into the fray in the third inning and held the Miami boys hitless from there on.

The Miami team is considered one of the best college teams in Ohio and last year were champions of the Ohio conference. Kentucky's runs came in the sixth inning, with two men out. Mauser, the Wildcats' third baseman, got on base through an error of the Miami shortstop, Kelly, outfielder, then slammed out one of the hardest Texas leaguers ever hit on the Stoll field. Louie Toth followed with a double, scoring Mauser and sending Kelly to third. Barnes, the next man up, sent a long double to left field, scoring Kelly and Toth for the winning run.

Outside of the sixth inning the Cats' only got to second base on one occasion. This was on a long drive to center field by Urbanak, who was forced to linger in that vicinity while his team mates either fled out or were struck out by Bass, the Miami hurler.

Coach Devereaux placed a well-balanced and smooth working combination on the field and with a little more practice they should be able to hold their own in any collegiate company.

Spring Football Practice Closes Saturday Afternoon

By BILL LUTHER

Saturday will bring to a close the most successful spring football training period ever held at the University of Kentucky. Ideal weather since the beginning of the practice sessions on February 4 has enabled Coach Gamage, with his assistants, Shively and Gilb, to develop more new men than any other spring practice since his arrival at U. K.

In comparing the closing practice period to other spring sessions Coach Gamage said that the boys have shown a finer spirit and more interest in the game during the entire season than he had even seen before. This spirit, beginning with the first week of practice and reaching its peak in the last week, has gone a long way in aiding the development of every man who has been out.

It is Coach Gamage's idea—and a good one—that it is the listless type of player who is more susceptible to injury. If a man is running, blocking or tackling his hardest he is less apt to be hurt.

This philosophy has been proved by the fact that but very few of the 60 candidates reporting for spring football will finish the season without taking part in the last two or three scrimmages.

With one exception the injuries occurred last week when Boardman, hard running halfback, and Tuttle, a stalwart tackle, received sprained ankles. Bob Montgomery, another tackle, is still being withheld from practice by a bruised muscle.

Another idea of the grid mentor is the vacation allowed the seniors of next season's campaign. This policy is followed in order to allow as much time as possible in the development of next season sophomores and juniors.

That the splendid development of the newcomers since February 4 will have material effect on these vacationing seniors is the hope of Coach Harry Gamage. He will keep them worried and help them realize that there is going to be plenty of competition thrown in their direction when they report in the fall. This means that they will take good care of themselves during the summer months and fall in line next September in first class condition.

Kentucky won six out of eight games during the 1930 season and the one, she will have won five conference battles; as many conference games as she played during the entire season of 1929. There will have been two more and the non-conference team, Maryville. Five conference wins constitute a successful season, but Kentucky, swiftly rising to the top in southern as well as national football esteem, under the tutelage of head coach Harry Gamage, will not be content with a "successful" season. She has an eye on the southern title and with a clean sweep of a representative, Hen.

though tough, schedule, little question can arise to check her claim. Little change will mark the opening lineup from that ending the U. T. game last November 24. The line will read the same from end to end with the exception of the guard positions that were capably filled by Pete Drury and Joe Thompson. Aldridge, the 192-pound newcomer from the freshman ranks, will get the call to Drury's old berth. Either Rose, McElroy, John Drury or Bill Humber will be assigned to Thompson's place.

In the backfield there will be more of a possibility of a revolution. One man, Captain Will Ed Covington, is gone. A dozen backs are clamoring for the right to start the 1930 games in his shoes. Among the more prominent of these are Newman Boardman, Ellis Johnson and Malcolm Foster, all new men.

Barring excessive injuries in the line, for which Coach Gamage has but few seasoned substitutes, we take the liberty, this, the fourth day of April, to predict a most successful season for our Wildcat grid machine in the season 1930.

"On to Rose Bowl."

COO-COO GOLF TOURNEY OPENS

Qualifying rounds in the first intramural coo-coo golf tournament are being held at the coo-coo links on Short street today and Saturday. At the first day of qualifying play, yesterday, more than 50 students followed the 18-hole course around the old fire station building. Bill Kaiser, formerly pro at the Jeffersonville, Ind., country club, who is managing the course, said that he expected a large entry today.

The "Tom Thumb" tourney will be officially opened Monday. The four lowest scores turned in by each fraternity will be eligible for tournament play. Only four men from each fraternity may enter. As many none-fraternity men as care to may play the qualifying rounds, but the lowest four will represent this group in the tourney. Prizes will be awarded the winner, runner-up, medalist and fraternity team champion.

CONCERTS TO BE GIVEN

The following dates have been announced for the series of spring "twilight" concerts to be given in amphitheater of Memorial hall, on April 10, 24, May 1, 8, 15 and 22. The programs include both classical and popular music.

Things we hate to have our best girl do:

1. Ask us what we think of our roommate and then start going with him.
2. Tell us what a hot date they had the night before.
3. Yawn.
4. Look disgusted.
5. Borrow our comb and clean thoroughly before using.
6. Smoke our last cigarette.—Wet clean sweep of a representative, Hen.

He: Have you ever kissed a man before?
She (falteringly): Y-yes.
He (excitedly): Tell me his name, so I can thrash him.
She: But—but—he might be too many for you.—Bison.

The old gentleman was a trifle bewildered at the elaborate wedding. "Are you the groom?" he asked the melancholy-looking young man. "No sir," the young man replied. "I was eliminated in the tryouts."—Nitt Witt.

FROSH SQUAD IS CUT TO 28 MEN

Coach Mauer Having Trouble
In Selecting Starting Nine;
First Game April 11 With
D. & D. Institute, Danville

The Kentucky Kitten baseball squad is rapidly wearing off the rough corners and soon will present a team for fans inspection. Coach John Mauer has cut the squad once, but still has 28 aspirants. He will cut a few more off before the first game of the season Friday, April 11, with the Deaf and Dumb School, of Danville.

A twirler named Ellis looks as though he might do most of the mound work for the frosh. He has a nice delivery and "something" on the ball, but he is getting close competition from Wooten and Worthington.

Lavin and Glibber have been going great at the backstop position and probably will have to toss a coin to decide who gets the job. The infield, at present, looks like Rardin at the initial bag, Engle on the keystone sack, Carey at short and Tucker at the hot corner. Davis, Mitchell and Shields have the edge in the fight for the outfield positions.

The squad practice has been hampered by inclement weather and, for the most part, has consisted in batting and fielding, with an occasional practice game between two teams picked from the squad. Therefore, it will not be possible to pick a starting team for some time, as all have not been able to show their wares to the best advantage.

The freshman squad includes Bertran, Cain, Carney, Coffman, Ellis, Engle, Davis, Dickson, Gilbert, Hines, Hodge, Kaempffe, Kirvin, Lavin, Luther, Mitchell, McVey, Rardin, Roman, Sanford, Sparks, Shields, Tucker, Webb, Wooten, Worthington, Wheeler and Isidor.

Chicago Co-Eds Not Anxious to Marry

CHICAGO.—If the grand, old institution of marriage depended for its perpetuity on Northwestern University's many and beautiful co-eds it would be too bad, for their cry is: "Who wants to live in an institution?"

Some statistics of a vocational survey of 400 senior girls at the Evanston school by Dean of Women Florence S. Robnett, looking at them from any angle, show little encouragement for marrying men.

Out of the 400 girls polled on what they intend to do after college only 23 of them admitted they were yearning for or planning marriage. The rest wanted careers of varying sorts.

"But," said Helen Reed, one of the seniors, who wants nothing more exciting than a happy marriage, "these figures probably will be reversed ten years from now. The girls have the idea that they would submerge their personality in marriage, but wait till they find their man."

Teaching led in the choice of professions, more than a quarter of the girls voting for that. Business was a close second, voted by girls who are fixing to be high-hat secretaries, bank clerks and bond sellers. Four of the girls plan on entering the diplomatic service after finishing law school.

The detailed choices of the seniors follow:

Teaching, 105; business, 75; art, interior decorating, etc., 28; marriage, 23; journalism, 22; social service, 22; personnel work, 17; music, 9; law school and diplomacy, 4; advertising, 4; geological research, 3. The remaining few of the 400 seniors were undecided, too tired, or too busy to choose a career.

Bart Peak, secretary of the Y. M. C. A., announced that "this last scheduled discussion was so successful that those present decided to have still another one." The meetings were to include only the Monday nights through March, but due to the enthusiasm at the last meeting another is scheduled for next Monday night in Patterson hall.

Youth Is Religious Dr. Poling Declares

"It takes more faith to eat a ham sandwich with which you are not acquainted than it does to be a Christian!"

Rev. Dr. Daniel A. Poling, minister, radio speaker, prohibition campaigner, leaned forward in his chair in the Deshler lobby, propped his head on his hand and talked energetically for 20 minutes. "Youth is incurably religious. I do not merely believe this, I know it. It is true that modern young people have revolted against the orthodox manner of expressing their interest in things spiritual, but that does not change the truth of that statement."

Shaking his index finger, his gray blue eyes snapping, Dr. Poling said: "The behaviorism that is handed out so freely to college young people falls in its logic on at least two points. In the first place, there are some experiences that no one will go through merely for the sake of gaining experience. In the second place, behaviorism, in the very nature of the theory, shuts men out from valuable experiences."

Dr. Poling smiled as he added: "I have sat down to table with the best of these behaviorists. They have never been able to answer these arguments. Although they are my friends, I do not believe they are intellectually honest."

Dr. Poling is not only editor-in-chief of the Christian Herald, author of three novels, radio speaker and pastor of an exclusive New York church, but he is also a field worker among the deck hands on the river barges. Doing this work he got atmosphere for his book, "The Heretic."

"When the book, which was an attack on the terrible conditions on the New York water front, came out, the president of a barge company wrote me and said that Elmer Gantry was a piker compared to me. He offered me $1,000 for my favorite charity if I could prove one of my statements."

"I was very sure of myself and wrote back to ask him to raise the rate to $5,000. He got scared, after investigating, and backed out of the bargain."—Ohio State Lantern.

Do Guinea Pigs' Eyes Drop Out If Held by Tail?

Seeing is believing, for Everett L. Dakan of the department of poultry husbandry, Dakan is a triumphant skeptic today. For years the good old adage, taught him at his mother's knee, so to speak, of "guinea pigs' eyes drop out when they are suspended by their tails," has bothered Dakan's scientific mind.

Could it really be true that the pig's eyes fell to the ground when the poor animal was swung by his tail? Dakan thought not, but having no guinea pigs to experiment with, was unable to explode the old theory.

At last the skeptic found his opportunity to test the old adage. Faced with a flock, or a herd, or whatever a gathering of guinea pigs is called, Dakan prepared to make the crucial test.

But guinea pigs are so shy! Dakan sacrificed much thought and patience for the cause of science. At last he seized one of the little animals by its extremities and prepared to hoist it aloft. This was Dakan's great moment. Now he would prove to the world that the weasel eyes of the guinea pig were as firmly fastened in its head as any other animal's.

But alas for the cause of science! Alas for Dakan's hopes. Alas! Alas! Guinea pigs have no tails!—Ohio State Lantern.

RoamiN' the Rialto with Thomas L. Riley

With the formal opening of "Scarlet" Monday night and the varied assortment of pictures in town it appears that the Rialto will be well supplied with entertainment.

—TLR—
The tug-of-war between "The Rogue Song" and "The Vagabond King" is indeed interesting. Both pictures are great, although my personal preference is "The Rogue Song." You can tabulate any amount of figures in support of either production and, in the end, you will find they result in almost a balanced score. From observation of the houses it seems that more people attended "The Golden Calf" than either of the two screen operettas.

—TLR—
Buster Keaton's first talking picture, "Free and Easy" (MGM) will open at the Ben Ali Sunday and it is said to be a hilarious farce. The picture is a satire on talking pictures and has, as its locale, the film studios. Quite a number of screen players appear in the picture, including Anita Page, William Haines and others. "Free and Easy" is recommended in the face of the other splendid comedies produced by the frozen faced hero, Buster Keaton, and I am confident you will enjoy it.

—TLR—
May I humbly remind you of the Stroller production, "Scarlet," which opens Monday night at the Guignol theater? It is a clever mystery designed purely for entertaining purposes. I hope you'll like it.

—TLR—
Ruth Chatterton is undoubtedly one of the talking screen's most perfect actresses. Her latest picture, "Sarah and Son" (Par), will open at the Kentucky tomorrow. I was permitted a preview of this attraction and I can vouch for its quality. "Sarah and Son" was adapted from the best-selling novel of Timothy Shea and tells a beautiful, though sometimes lachrymose, story of a mother's devotion. Miss Chatterton is practically the whole show although the supporting cast, headed by Frederic March, is excellent. This production will appeal particularly to women and it was directed by Dorothy Arzner, Hollywood's leading feminine director.

—TLR—
Most unusual—the fate of "Paris Bound" (Pathe)—I mean. This picture has been advertised three times since last October and has been thrown out each time by a current picture holding over. I wonder if we will ever be permitted to see this production?

—TLR—
"Montana Moon" (MGM), will open at the Strand Sunday, and is the second talking picture of Joan Crawford. Her first, "Untamed," was a fair success. "Montana Moon" is said to be an interesting story of western nature with plenty of romance in which John Mack Brown, the male lead, takes no small part. The picture features as they all do these days, music and some of the male choruses are reported to be particularly good. Incidentally, it was during the making of this picture that Joan Crawford sprained both her ankles.

Law Library Gets Valuable Books

A. A. Bablitz Donates Law Reporter Series Published in 1838

A. A. Bablitz, local attorney and an alumnus of the College of Law, gave to the Law School library recently a valuable set of books, which are now out of print.

The Law Reporter, which was published in Boston beginning in the year 1838, was issued in two series. The old series consisted of ten volumes and the new series consists of 17 volumes. Mr. Bablitz gave to the law school the old series complete and the first volume in the new series. He also gave to the law library the first 33 volumes of the new series of the American Law Register.

The American Law Register was merged into the University of Pennsylvania Law Review, beginning with volume 48 and the law school hopes to be able to find volumes 36 to 48, having recently purchased volumes 34 to 35 in Salt Lake City, Utah.

Fair Co-Eds Lend Charm to Reviews

The sacrifice was worth while, for else how could we have had the Naval Conference, which is being used as an International cathartic.

Some smart boy, evidently a product of Sutherland's public speaking class, said that it would be a good thing if we could bring to Kentucky the members of all peace organizations and let them witness the military reviews. He was of the opinion that they would soon quit all their foolishness and look at the world from a rational standpoint.

There was one note of pessimism, though, for after the affair was over, after the stirring tunes of the band had died in a glorious sunset, and the participants of the parade had placed their guns safely in the armory, one young fellow, quite honest, who was presiding freely, was asked how he liked it. His language will not bear printing, but in effect he said that he did not approve of the blanket, etc., at all.

When he was reminded of the fact that so many boys ought to be proud to give their bodies and souls to their country, he smiled cynically and said that "their bodies might be of some benefit, but if the country got nothing more than their souls it would be cheated. For if anyone with any intelligence," he continued, "can spend three hours a week at that stuff he is beyond my powers of comprehension."

"The last war," he said, "was fought to make the world safe for democracy, and I guess that the next one will be fought for the purpose of making the world safe for peace."

When such radical statements are allowed to go unchallenged the country is coming to no good end. But despite the fact that some of the radicals do not like the reviews they supply a demand which nothing else could quite fill. What could satisfy Hazel Bauman more than to appear on the campus with fourteen hundred boys following her (for they were walking in a circle) or is there anything which would satisfy Mary Armstrong's ego more sufficiently than to have fifty-six men turn all at once and marvel at her charming features.

When it was all over the sponsors were tired, oh, very tired, but their happiness exceeded anything which earthly mortals are privileged to see. The majors, captains, sergeants, first, second, third, fourth, fifth, and infirmity, a score of lieutenants of every variety and even the humble corporals had a look of tired satisfaction written on their faces.

There was a strange army officer in town. When it was all over he smiled and snapped his fingers, which seemed to say "one big shell, one big explosion, and they are all gone to their premature graves," but no one heard him say anything and he continued to be an army officer as ever.

Student Council to Survey Conditions At University Store

stitution, and for absolute power in regard to the control of the use of intoxicating liquor by students at the University, was acted on favorably at the Wednesday meeting, which was attended by President McVey and Dean Melcher. The situation was discussed in full and President McVey gave his approval for a committee to incorporate in the constitution such power as it desires to exercise for the welfare of the student body and the University. A committee also was appointed by the council to amend the present constitution and define more definitely its powers under the old constitution and the amendments to be added to it by the committee on amendments.

The following communicado concerning the power request of the council at the March 26 meeting was sent to The Kernel yesterday with a request that it be published verbatim:

"April 3, 1930.
"The published reports relative to the recent action of the Men's Student Council of the University of Kentucky are misleading.

"The council did not intend its resolution as a demand for absolute student government, nor as an ultimatum, but it wanted its powers to be more definitely defined in the constitution in order that it may, as an administrative body, more effectively and satisfactorily maintain and regulate student discipline. In the accomplishment of this aim the council realizes it must be in perfect co-operation with the University authorities.

"At a meeting in President McVey's office, Wednesday afternoon, the situation was discussed and

GRIFFIN SELLS MYSTERY STORY

Detective Magazine Buys Feature on "The Bluegrass Murder Mystery" Written by Journalism Instructor

Gerald Griffin, instructor in the Department of Journalism, has sold a 4,000-word feature story, "The Bluegrass Murder Mystery" on the Lewis Hill murder, which occurred in Lexington, to the True Detective Mystery Magazine, one of the McFadden monthly publications. The story will appear in a future issue of the magazine.

The True Detective Mystery Magazine specializes in tales of crimes that have proven difficult for the police to handle, publishing stories that have all the elements of mystery attached to them.

Called before the courts several times before a decision was reached the trials of Lewis Hill for the murder of his wife were replete with mystery; and before Hill was finally sent to the penitentiary for the murder many unusual developments in the case were brought out.

Mr. Griffin, author of the article which is soon to be published, is at present a teacher of feature writing at the University and is head of the Lexington Bureau of the Courier-Journal. He is a former graduate of the class of 1922.

During his undergraduate career at the University "Jack" Griffin was editor-in-chief of the Kernel, cadet colonel of the R. O. T. C. unit and a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon social fraternity.

Saturday morning at 9 o'clock in the men's gymnasium the orchestras for classes A, B, C, D and E will compete for the state championship. At 2 p. m. the bands for classes A, B, C, D and E will hold their contests in the men's gymnasium. There have been 24 bands enrolled to date to enter the contests. There will be only 14 orchestras.

Judges from other states will be Miss Grace Van Dyke More of the North Carolina college for women, Greensboro, N. C., and Barre Hill, who is the baritone of the Chicago Civic opera company. He will be here at that time to fill other engagements and has consented to be one of the judges in the vocal contests. Miss More will also judge vocal contests. Mr. Frank Simon, director of the Armco band of Middletown, Ohio, will be one of the judges for the band and orchestra contests.

President McVey gave his approval for the committee to incorporate in the constitution such power as it desired to exercise for the welfare of the student body and the University. A committee was appointed by the council to amend the constitution and define more definitely its powers.

New Prison Service Favors Collegians

Professional Training Will Fit Individual for Federal Career

Communications to the University from the United States department of justice state that the Federal prison service is being reorganized and professionalized at the present time. The system which will be instituted will offer highly desirable possibilities to college graduates.

A system of professional training will be established and promotion will be made entirely on the merit of the individual. Prison work has long represented a career for college graduates in foreign countries and it is hoped that a similar system can be established in the United States.

An officer's training school for prison guards has been established in New York and it is here that candidates for the service will receive their initial training. After the training period a term of four months must be spent as a guard in one of the federal prisons. During this time the employee will receive training in criminal psychology, the development of modern penology and other relevant courses.

Superintendent of United States Prisons Stanford Bates, says that college trained men have their place in modern prison work and that an urgent appeal is being made to interest college graduates in this line of work.

French Club to Give Banquet April 26

Le Cercle Français met Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the recreation room of Patterson hall and had as its program a discussion of the life and works of La Fontaine, French poet. Miss Katherine Wilson was in charge of the program.

Mrs. Emil Johnson gave a short talk on the background of La Fontaine's life, and then Miss Wilson spoke for a few minutes on his life and his influence on French literature. Miss Mildred Graham read several of the fables for which he gained his fame, and Miss Virginia Ellis gave a criticism of his works. A short business meeting was held to determine when and where to have the annual banquet and it was decided to have it April 26 at the Chimney Corner Tea Room.

After the club adjourned the members of Fleur de Lis, honorary French organization, held a short meeting at which they voted upon the members of the French Club
